

Just Because YOU'RE PARANOID Doesn't Mean Your Party Isn't DYING.

Oh, Dear! All of that hateful and frightened
RHETORIC!

THE G.O.P. WORLD IS ENDING!

T.T. 04

BOMB SURVIVAL AND YOU

You in the GOP might survive this bomb, but it will take great sacrifice, shame, and isolation. Purchasing a fallout shelter stocked with granular food, barbiturates, and dehydrated proteins might be the best option, with a dial set for 2028 as a possible year to re-enter society.

Sad but True: When Abraham Lincoln famously passed his keys to the Republican Party to a valet, he told the driver, "Please, it's a nice political party, don't scratch it." Tragically, the party was stolen soon after, only to be found 155 years later, dented and busted, off the highway in a ditch!

Finding NEW FEAR to Fear

Some consider this a nuclear option, but leading voices in public hysteria and crowd manipulation are now urging those in the GOP to find a new category of fear to be frightened by. "Perhaps a new race can be discovered?" — Other options include fearing bread, water, and other staples found around the kitchen.

Peace from Panic

For those of you in the Republican Party, we urge you to not over-react in this time of transition. Soon sleep will come over you in a deep, soothing wave...
